

Bobby Labadini, CAIA®
Regional Vice President
Business Consultant
John Hancock Investment Management

Bobby Labadini is Regional Vice President and Business Consultant with John Hancock Investment Management where he has been since 2012. In his role he works with financial advisors in Southern OH, Kentucky, and WV to help advisors build better investment outcomes for their clients, provide capital market outlooks on our global economy, and deliver educational training to financial advisors. Prior to working at John Hancock Investment Management, he worked at Eaton Vance Investment Management on their firm's fixed income trading desk providing support to the portfolio managers and their investment products.

He is a graduate of Providence College in Providence, RI where he majored in Business Economics and is a Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA).