

Clark was born and raised in Minnesota and got his start in the Insurance and Financial Services industry in 2012, working for Allstate Insurance in Idaho while in college. After moving back to Minnesota, Clark finished his degree in Economics and Business administration at Augsburg University in Minneapolis while working full time at a State Farm agent's office. After graduation, Clark started his annuity career with Prudential as a financial professional on the retail side. He made the move to wholesaling in 2018, taking a job with Jackson National covering the Chicago metro area and later Tennessee where he and his family lived for 4 years. Clark joined the North American Annuity team in West Des Moines this in 2022 and now covers annuity sales for the Northeast region as the Regional Sales Director. He looks forward to supporting you and your business with fantastic service and competitive products provided by North American. In his free time, Clark likes to spend time hiking, fishing and camping with his wife, Alicia, and their three boys.
