

Corey Cox is the Regional Director at Principal with 7 years of experience on the Life and DI Business Solutions team. In his role, Corey leverages his extensive experience and industry knowledge to provide innovative solutions and strategic guidance to financial professionals in the life and disability insurance sector.

As a Regional Director, Corey is responsible for developing and maintaining strong relationships with financial advisors, brokers, and insurance agents across his designated territory. He excels in educating and supporting these professionals on complex life and disability insurance products, helping them better serve their clients' needs. His in-depth understanding of underwriting processes, policy features, and industry trends allows him to offer valuable insights and tailored solutions to meet diverse client needs.

Outside of his professional life, Corey resides in Adel, Iowa with his wife Emily and their two children, Ava and Benson. When his busy schedule allows, Corey enjoys pursuing his passions for golf, hockey, and just being outdoors in general.
