

QUINCY KROSBY

Dr. Quincy Crosby
Chief Global Strategist
LPL Research

Dr. Quincy Crosby is LPL Financial's chief global strategist. In this role she provides a perspective on global capital markets with an emphasis on the macro-economic environment, coupled with the fundamentals underpinning the broader market landscape. In addition, Quincy is a member of the firm's Strategic and Tactical Asset Allocation Committee.

Previously, Quincy was the chief market strategist at Prudential Financial, and global investment strategist at Deutsche Bank asset management. She also held global capital markets positions at Credit Suisse and Barings.

Before coming to Wall Street, Quincy Crosby was a U.S. diplomat, serving in Washington and United States embassies abroad, including a posting as energy attaché at the U.S. Embassy in London. In addition to numerous assignments at the U.S. Department of State, she served as Assistant Secretary of Commerce, and represented the United States to the International Monetary Fund, positions which require confirmation by the U.S. Senate.

She is frequently quoted in the financial press and appears often on business television.

Quincy studied at the London School of Economics where she earned her master's and doctoral degrees.

She currently holds series 7, 63 and 24 licenses.